

PRESS RELEASE

Toulouse, 5th March 2018 - Derichebourg Atis aéronautique has announced through its American holding Derichebourg Aviation Services Incorporated, its purchase of the American company AUSGAEL Aviation Services, specialised in aircraft inspection on the production line and during delivery, on behalf of leasing companies and airlines.

The acquisition of the AUSGAEL Aviation Services firm, located in Seattle, will enable Derichebourg Atis aéronautique, a subsidiary of the French DERICHEBOURG group, to reinforce its position and development on the American continent. Derichebourg Atis aéronautique, a leader in aeronautical subcontracting in the fields of Manufacturing Engineering, Quality Inspection, Production and Asset Management, has joined forces with the widely recognised know-how of AUSGAEL Aviation Services to accompany the owners of aircraft and international airline companies from production to delivery of their aircraft (Airbus, Boeing, Embraer for all programmes).
